

Kit Turpin – Indiana AML

Kit is the Project Management Supervisor for the Abandoned Mine Lands program of the Indiana Department of Natural Resources, Division of Reclamation. He is currently responsible for the management and supervision of reclamation construction projects. Kit is also in charge of the reforestation efforts within the Division, managing the planning and planting of trees on abandoned mine sites. He has been working for the AML Program since 2007. Previously, from 2004-2007, Kit worked for the National Park Service in Tennessee. He graduated from the University of Southern Indiana with bachelor's degree in Biology and Vincennes University with an Associates in Conservation Law.